

Section 3 - Assignment

Build the program in this chapter in such a way that one variable would control the size of all the circles (meaning changing that variable should change the size of all the circles) and another one should control the radius difference for all the circles.

You can find a solution at: <https://codepen.io/enginearslan/pen/jZGBxv?editors=0010>